MAKE YOUR OWN WINE

by ALEX APPLEYARD

is an exciting book

There are recipes for making wines to suit every dish and every occasion. There are white wines, red wines, wines to be drunk before and after dinner, and wines that can be used for cocktails.

Once you have become an expert in wine making you will make wine that will compare most favourably with any wine you can buy and imagine the pleasure you will get out of producing an extra specially successful "vintage" and saying to your friends: "You must try some of my Elderberry wine—it's really excellent." Apart from the pleasure of making your own wine you will find the cost ridiculously small compared to the magnificence and quality of the finished article. You can have a fair-sized and varied cellar for a sum that would not buy a case of Château Mouton Rothschild.

MAKE YOUR WINE WELL, AND DRINK IT WELL!
