This is the second of a graded series of books containing short anecdotes for oral or written re-telling. The intention is to train the student in the understanding and reproducing of material which he has listened to or read. It contains 54 passages, each about 150 words long and each succeeded by a short set of questions on the passage. Vocabulary is restricted to the 1,500 word level and the book contains a complete word list. The grammatical structures used follow A. S. Hornby's A Guide to Patterns and Usage in English

The other books in this series are

Elementary Stories for Reproduction
