

A FAREWELL TO ARMS

Ernest Hemingway

3s

15p

A PENGUIN INTERNATIONAL EDITION

A FAREWELL TO ARMS

ERNEST HEMINGWAY

PENGUIN BOOKS

Hemingway was a master of a tough, remorseless style of writing, whose severity and peculiar grace attracts imitators but not equals. This novel of love and bereavement in the First World War is a classic of modern American writing.

'He is one of those who, honestly and undauntedly, reproduces the genuine hard countenance of the age' - From the citation for the Nobel Prize for Literature, 1954

A selection of famous titles that have been read and enjoyed all over the world since their first publication, specially selected for the student. These are now made available at much reduced prices. All the books are complete and unabridged, and in many cases edited by leading authorities.

Cover design by Max Holmes

For copyright reasons this edition is not for sale in the U.S.A. or Canada

ISBN 0 14
054006 7