PAN BOOKS LTD : LONDON

An A-Z of English and American writers from the earliest times of their respective literature to the present day.

There are over 2,300 entries and modern Scottish and Irish writers have of course been included as well as English. Many well-known authors from countries of the British Commonwealth are also to be found.

The biographies include essential dates, the itemization of principal works, occasional brief anecdotes and some basic assessment of literary style and tradition.

'What a veritable feast is here! This magnificent work has a value rich as rubies . . .'

Journal of the Institute of Journalists

'A compilation of enormous value to every writer or student of literature'

J. B. Priestley

'You open it and go on and on reading'
