

RESTIF DE LA BRETONNE
Monsieur Nicolas

THE MOST AMAZING AND INTIMATE LIFE-STORY EVER PRINTED

Trans. by Robert Baldick

FULLY ILLUSTRATED

RESTIF DE LA BRETONNE

MONSIEUR NICOLAS

or
THE HUMAN HEART LAID BARE

TRANSLATED, EDITED AND WITH AN INTRODUCTION BY ROBERT BALDICK

A MAYFLOWER PAPERBACK

CONTENTS

Page
7

Introduction

13

FIRST EPOCH
My Childhood 1735-1746

54

SECOND EPOCH
I am a Choirboy 1746-1747

71

THIRD EPOCH
My Stay at Courgis: Love 1748-1752

131

FOURTH EPOCH
My Apprenticeship—Madame Parangon
1751-1755

253

FIFTH EPOCH
My Second Stay in Paris 1755-1759

296

SIXTH EPOCH
Home. Dijon. Paris Again. Marriage 1759-1765

317

SEVENTH EPOCH
I Become a Writer 1765-1775

337

EIGHTH EPOCH
Le Paysan perversi and its Successors 1775-1785

356

NINTH EPOCH
My Great Illness 1785-1797

374

TENTH EPOCH
My Last Afflictions and my Approaching End

Restif de la Bretonne in his own time was described variously as a 'gutter Rousseau', the 'Voltaire of the chambermaids', a 'dunghill containing much gold' and a writer of 'incalculable value'. Today we can see the career of this remarkable Frenchman in much better perspective—he was a man who loved and worshipped women and who (despite the writing of 240 books) dedicated himself tirelessly to their pursuit and conquest. This is his utterly-frank account of his life and loves; of the two women he worshipped and of the hundreds he enjoyed.

"Has been described as possibly the most amazing and intimate autobiography ever printed. And it is."

THE SCOTSMAN

"His fantastic amatory conquests were almost as numerous as those of Casanova."

FINANCIAL TIMES

"A smooth, enthralling narrative."

MANCHESTER EVENING NEWS

"A masterpiece."

COUNTRY LIFE

"Authentic and first class... a fascinating book"

THE IRISH TIMES

"In this volume, Restif is saying bonjour to a new world of readers. May you be counted among them, for the price is ludicrously small in relation to the enduring delight of his company."

THE BOOKMAN

JACKET DESIGN BY OWEN WOOD

UNITED KINGDOM	7/6
AUSTRALIA	$1.15c.
NEW ZEALAND	95c.
SOUTH AFRICA	90c.