

Macmillan

ALL ABOUT BALANCE SHEETS*

* The easy way

C Northcote Parkinson
M K Rustomji

914
35

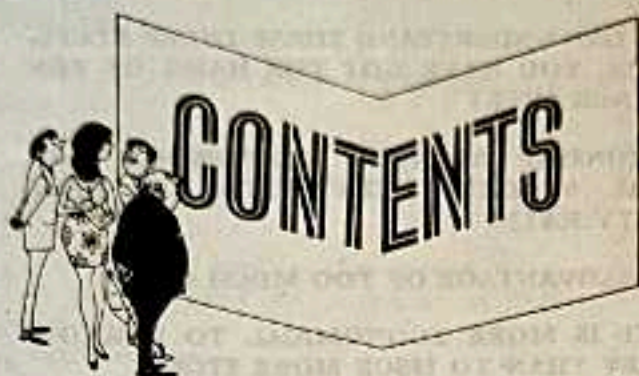

C Northcote Parkinson
M K Rustomji

ALL ABOUT BALANCE SHEETS*

The easy way

Drawings by
R. Chakravarty

M

Page Nos.

INTRODUCTION

viii - xv

ACCOUNTING JARGON MADE UNDERSTANDABLE xvii

WHY THIS TERM BALANCE SHEET

1

Explanation of the double-entry system

1-2

Balance sheet terms

3-4

Conventional form of a balance sheet

5-6

Vertical or columnar balance sheet

7-8

Salient features of a balance sheet

9-11

WHAT A COMPANY OWNS—ASSETS

12-13

Fixed assets

14-15

Stock in subsidiary companies

16-17

'Hidden' assets

18-19

Valuation of fixed assets

20

Current assets

21-22

Inflationary trends and revaluation of assets

23

WHAT A COMPANY OWES—LIABILITIES

24

Stockholders' shareholders' funds

25

Different types of stockholdings

26-28

Principle of limited liability

29

Reserves

30-31

Dividends

32

Loans

33

Current liabilities

34-35

Contingent liabilities

36

ALL ABOUT BALANCE SHEETS*

*The easy way

At last! A book that makes a balance sheet—a document of mystery for most—comprehensible to ordinary everyday people. It will attract, in addition, the hardened know-it-all executives—even the highly qualified CPAs and Chartered Accountants. It will make them aware of some of the important obvious things that they never fully realised before. And they will get some fun in the process. That's where the genius and Wit of the authors come in.

C. Northcote Parkinson has a world reputation for his tongue-in-cheek satires on bureaucratic management. His PARKINSON'S LAW and other books have sold in millions.

M. K. Rustomji, of the renowned firm of Tatas, was financial controller for many years of one of the biggest engineering works of its type in the world. He was also selected to head a Government team which toured the world to study and to make recommendations on accounting and financial controls. Rustomji has written a number of best sellers. His WATCH YOUR COSTS and other books have been translated into several languages. Two of his books are under process of being converted into films. He is at present Public Affairs Adviser of Tata Services Limited.

Rs. 28.00

Other books by the same authors
in Macmillan paperbacks :

HOW TO GET TO THE TOP
WATCH YOUR FIGURES

Macmillan Moulds Minds in Millions

MACMILLAN INDIA LIMITED
DELHI BOMBAY MADRAS PATNA BANGALORE
HYDERABAD LUCKNOW TRIVANDRUM