LEAF STORM AND OTHER STORIES
by GABRIEL GARCÍA MÁRQUEZ

'You know at once you are in the presence of an arresting writer. The book is a collection of stories, mostly fables, and Leaf Storm, the longest, was begun when Márquez was nineteen. It's a hypnotic, mysterious tale . . . there's a wonderful story about a week-long South American rainstorm, like something out of The Power and the Glory. Greene-land seen from the inside . . . also a delicious fable of a tatty angel who crash-lands in a village and is kept in a hencoop. Recommended to all Márquez fans . . . as for me, I take my hat off to him'

P. J. KAVANAGH/THE GUARDIAN

'A second collection of stories . . . absolutely superb . . . so brilliantly organised, and well translated by Gregory Rabassa, that the eye is held to the very end . . . Márquez has enormous gifts of narrative, wit and irony – and we certainly need those'

THE TIMES

'A celebration of the myth-making process . . . the prose of Márquez is plain, exact, subtle, springy and easily leaps into the comical and exuberant'
