Parents and their position

Allah Almighty has bestowed upon mankind various and innumerable gifts. However much we may try, we can thank only a part of all these obligations and deserve His favour. Out of all such gifts and favours, parents are one of them. After thanking Him it has become obligatory on us to thank parents, Allah's will lies in the will of parents. Time and again we are warned and ordered to behave well and do favours with both of them (mother and father). Allah has expressed His displeasure at the slightest trouble or hurting of the feeling
